

OSCAR LUCAS HAS BEEN HEARD FROM

Missing Banker of Latham Sends Telegram from Alberta, Can., to His Family.

It is a pleasing Latham. He was well-to-do and had a comfortable home and his disappearance was regarded as strange. It was stated at the time that young Lucas had some words with his father about the conducting of the bank and that this trouble had caused him to go away. There is nothing wrong with the bank and his accounts were all right. There was no business reason for his leaving. He disappeared three weeks ago today and until the telegram came the family was in a state of much anxiety. Nothing is given out by the family as to the reason for Lucas leaving. It is associated with his father, but the exact nature of the business of the bank is not known.

THOMAS GIVES A $200 BOND

Man Who Stabbed His Wife Is Released From Jail.

"Sunday" Thomas, the fellow arrested Saturday night by Officer Davison and Officer Koppie for stabbing his wife, was released yesterday morning on bonds to the amount of $200, to appear before Justice James O'Mara this afternoon. The knife used by Thomas was secured yesterday morning by Deputy Al Morris. It was found Saturday night shortly after the cutting by Mrs. Minnie Thomas and Katie Hunt, who live at 811 East North street. The cutting occurred at the home occupied by Thomas and his wife over Burnett's saloon, corner of Broadway and Eldorado. Thomas threw the knife out of the window after using it and it was found across the street near the corner. The knife is a small looking thing. It is the kind of knife with a huge blade about four inches long. It is evident that the entire blade did not enter the woman's side as it would have been found to reach a vital part. She will probably recover all right unless complications develop, which will not become evident for a few days yet. The wound did not appear to be very serious.

SPECIAL SESSION COST $50,000 PRIMARY ACT NOT PASSED

Legislature About to Enter Upon Fifth Week of Expensive Work With Nothing Accomplished.

Their absence would give the regulars an easy proposition in the defeat of any amendments that might be offered by the insurgents or by the radical democrats. With a dozen of the democrats absent the regulars could carry out the amended bill to third reading. In such a case, the bill that would come on its passage the next day would be the republican conference measure, and the democrats or those of them in sympathy with the regulars, could easily find an excuse for voting against it, and giving the weak-kneed republicans a justification in their voting for the party measure rather than voting with the democrats in obstruction. Practical Machiavellism is not an unknown quality in Illinois politics.

A feature of the situation is the seeming isolation of Governor Deneen at present so far as a primary election is concerned. When the session first met and the so-called Stead bill was introduced, it was considered to be the administration measure. The senate cut it up a good deal, but the senate bill retains many of the features of the Stead bill. But there is little resemblance between the Stead bill and the Shurtleff bill adopted by the majority of the republican conference. It is understood that the draft of the Shurtleff bill was not shown to the governor until after it had been submitted to the republican conference. The effort of the governor to influence the party leaders in their respective counties had the effect, mainly, of increasing the members against the governor.

HEAR GOOD SERMON

Rev. H. Peters Preaches to a Large Congregation.

At the English Lutheran church Sunday the regular services were held morning and evening with the pastor, Rev. H. Peters in the pulpit. He took for his text in the morning the passage, "The joy of the Lord is your strength," and spoke in part as follows: "God has made us for joy, not for sorrow. It is our nature and instinct to seek for it. It is an evidence how ever of our depravity that we seek for it and take up with joys and pleasures which cheat and kill, which are sensual and devilish."

"God is a God of joy. He is joyful in himself. He rejoices in righteousness, truth, mercy and faith. This joy of God is portrayed in the scriptures especially in connection with the joy of the faithful over the return of the prodigal and that of the shepherd who has found his sheep which was lost, and of the woman who lost her piece of money and found it again. It is God's joy to impart joy to his creatures. He rejoices in all the works of his hands."

"We people of God have ever been a joyful people. The Israelites and their feasts throughout the year are a striking case in point. It is done so in the new testament church. She began with the joy of the first Christians. Her gospel is 'good tidings of great joy.' She is continually partaking the joy of resurrection and it is very striking to note how frequently the joy of the first Christians is portrayed in the Acts of the Apostles. It is joy in the midst of sorrow, affliction, suffering and triumphing over the Lord is our strength. 'The joy of the Lord is our strength.' It is the sign of the health of our souls. Joy is the tonic of the mind. It is strength against temptation and unbelief, strength for service, strength for liberality. Sorrow paralyzes, thus upsets the fountains of the soul, but joy opens them and sets them flowing out to reward and to bless others. In our sorrows we think much upon ourselves. In our joys we are lifted out of ourselves."

The evening subject was "Clouds" as suggested by the passage, Job 42:21: "And now thou seest the clouds; but the wind passeth and cleanseth them."

FARM HAND HAS MONEY

Surprises Employer By Making Big Deposit of Money.

Special Correspondence
Newman, Ill., May 7.—One of our farmers was a little surprised to find his hired hand depositing $1,400 in good gold 284 recently which the former did not know was about the premises. The man, an intelligent wanderer, earned the bank to pay $150 per acre for the farm upon which he was employed as a hired hand. He was in good standing with commercial agencies. The bank looked him up and sprung their bid three dollars on the acre as a consequence. This is no doubt a rare case.

FINLEY BARRELL LETTER

By Tyler, Harney & Co., 112 East Wabash St. Both Phones 352.
Chicago, May 7.—The letter of the principal characteristics of the corn market. Another large decrease in the visible supply caused the principal part of the bushels from the domestic field. Foreign markets were firm but farm statistics bearish. Stocks in July wheat have been more volatile than the sharp fluctuations in May. Some of them, especially early others taking then placed both on the advance and on a subsequent break in the market. May, however, failed to materialize fully either with the bulge or breaks in May after the first advance. There was some talk that cash wheat would be brought down to 100 cents on May contracts. A few days have recently been sold to come out to millers.

CORN—Corn has been very dull, trading on a weak tone. The bulk of Saturday and Sunday nights failed to get into a territory where the price would be seriously in danger. Planting and growth not having advanced progressed far into the year. Surplus states. Prices were held for some time however by belief that the lake strike would soon be settled and the corn go to a fairly eager eastern buyers at lower freight.
